

FAMILIES FIRST

Parents are their children's first and most vital teachers. At Child360, we promote family engagement because we believe it is the foundation for building strong parent-educator relationships and boosting their children's social, emotional and academic development.

Child360 offers a variety of trainings to support early education providers in deepening their knowledge of effective family engagement. We teach them practical ways to implement best practices that will help strengthen families and catapult children to success.

Child360's trainings include:

- Strengthening Families™ Protective Factors Overview
- Strengthening Families™ Framework Protective Factors Institute
- Parent Ambassadors Program

Child360 also provides trainings around mental health topics to promote healthy social and emotional development in children:

- Behavior Management
- Cultural Competence
- Mental Health Resource Identification
- Mindfulness: Wellness Strategies for Children

For more information about family engagement and mental health trainings, please contact Claudia Sarmiento: 213.416.1335 or csarmiento@child360.org
